Versatile, practical & made to measure

More versatile than a standard door, our external PVCu Stable doors provide maximum ventilation without the need of opening the whole door, as well as keeping children and pets safely indoors.

For extra security and as standard all our external PVCu Stable doors come with a multipoint hook locking system and reinforced frames and panels to ensure maximum security for your home and your family.

Stable doors can be made to open inwards or outwards and are available in a range of colours and finishes.

Highly practical and with a unique style

Highly practical and with a unique style, Stable doors are a natural choice for a kitchen or as a back door. With the ability to open the top half of the door whilst keeping the lower half shut, perfect for homes with children or animals as the wooden stable door still allows fresh air in. Stable doors lend themselves readily to barn conversions and can finish the country look and feel.

Finalise your door with some finishing touches

When it comes to those finishing touches, you can personalise your door with our high quality letter plates, knockers, numerals and spy holes. Each of our door furniture components are available in silver, gold, chrome, graphite, black and white.

As well as a beautiful appearance, we have impeccable security options. The Yale locking cylinder uses anti-bump, anti-pick, anti-drill, anti-snap, anti-extraction and is trusted by many insurance companies.

For extra peace of mind we would recommend that you upgrade to our enhanced security features which include laminate glass, anti snap high security handles and anti bump locking cylinders.

We understand that having a secure home is the most important element so we have gone the extra mile to ensure that your doors won't blow about or rattle in the wind through the use of reinforcement.
